Liberals Have Good Meeting.

Following the unavoidable postponement of the Liberal Meeting on Thursday last, the local organization arranged for a meeting on Saturday night, which in spite of the short notice and the bad weather was remarkably well attended.

The Theatre had been decorated for the occasion with bunting, flags and cartoons and pictures of the old chieftain were liberally displayed.

The chair was taken by John Morden and on the platform supporting the speakers Jesse Gouge and A. MacArthur, were Lorne Webster, Roy Lane and Tom Evans.

The chairman in a brief address introduced the speakers.

Mr. MacArthur in an address which was notable for its entire lack of anything dealing with the issues of this election, but which was composed partly of references to previous elections and mainly of criticism of the old Borden government, said of Mr. Gouge, that he was in every way worthy of the support of the electors. He was honest, fearless, and an out-and-out supporter of the Government which was for the people and by the people, the Laurier Government.

Mr. MacArthur contended that the Union government was nothing more or less than the same Borden government which had been responsible for such a host of blunders during its term of office.

He referred at length to the pro-Union attitude of the Borden government at the 1911 election and said that government was now appealing for support upon precisely the same promises which were made before but never carried out.

Mr. MacArthur then made a series of charges against the administration of the government, contending that the flow of scandal was now being brought about in order that the shareholders might benefit.

He spoke of the buying of horses and saddles and said that he knew of cases where men were handed unsigned cheques for horses which had been turned down on account of old age during the South African war.

Speaking of the corruption act he said that farmers should not place any faith whatever in the Order-in-Council which had recently been issued, for it was not worth the paper it was written on. Farmers and their sons will be disappointed he said but not until after the election.

Mr. MacArthur undoubtedly made an impression upon the audience which in our opinion was the reverse of which he had calculated, for some of the strongest supporters of the liberals were frankly disgusted with the lack of foundation in the countless charges he made.

Mr. Gouge, who followed made apologies for the postponement of the Thursday meeting and explained how the circumstance arose. He also expressed his regret that the Hon. A. G. MacKay was unable to be present for it was the desire of the liberals to give the electorate a clear understanding of the issues confronting them at this election.

Mr. Gouge said that he wished to assure his audience that he was not a politician but a plain business man, who believed that the introduction of business into politics would be beneficial to the country at large.

He believed in Union Government he said when applied properly but he did not believe that the

Liberal Speaker Tries to Run a Bluff On Farmers

At the liberal meeting on Saturday one of the speakers, Mr. MacArthur of Glendon made a statement which to say the least was obviously an error. We say it was an error because when approached after the meeting Mr. MacArthur said that, on consideration, he may have been wrong in stating definitely information which he was aware was given from a viewpoint partial to the liberal side.

Mr. MacArthur stated that in spite of the fact that an Order-in-Council, which was not worth the paper it was written on, had been issued giving specific instructions to local tribunals to exempt all farmers from Military Service, farmers and their sons would be conscripted after the election.

That the Order-in-Council is actual law is now proven to all by the decision handed down by Chief Justice Duff in a test case which was tried last week.

It is to be regretted that such a flagrant "error" was made at a public meeting for it undoubtedly carried conviction into many minds but when such methods are adopted in open meetings it makes one wonder what tactics are being used in private canvassing.

B. H. Bunny Buys Massive Stallions.

B. H. Bunny, while attending the Chicago International Fair recently, purchased from W. S. Carter, of Wilkesville, Ill., two stallions both of which were sired by the world-famous Cernot 66666 (66666) the $40,000.00 stallion.

One of these colts, Cernot 66666 is a massive black five year old, and weighs 2200 lb.

This was the only time he has been shown and he was placed sixth in the open second class.

present so-called Union was uniting any part of the Dominion. On the contrary, it was sowing race-hatred which could only result in disintegration.

He bitterly reproached the Hon. A. L. Sifton for his action in joining the government and said that he had no right to issue a bill of sale of the Liberal party. Sifton, he said was not a weak vacillating character but a man of strong convictions and he could not understand how such a man could move a condemnatory resolution upon the Borden government in August and join that same government in September.

Speaking of the Hon. T. A. Cresser, he said, that in all of his speeches he had made a point of apologizing for his connection with the Borden government, and apparently did not relish his bed-mates.

What is it which has made these men join such a government. They had not gone into it for fun.

Value of Corn

Lester Burbank Says It Is Best Cereal Except Wheat and Rice

Lester Burbank of California has declared that he was misquoted in the statement recently attributed to him that corn diet is inferior to the national health.

In his denial he says: "I am in thorough sympathy with the effort to get corn more generally introduced into the dietary of the United States. It is in my opinion the best cereal food, next to wheat and rice, and people should by all means be encouraged to use it far more liberally than it has been used, as it supplies all of the elements of nutrition in nearly the right proportions and will take the place of so much meat with great advantage to the health of those who use it. It will certainly be far better to use a good proportion of it rather than so much white wheat flour."

Aviator Tackled Nine Goths

Tackling nine Goths single-handed, and sending two crashing down into the sea after a thrilling fight at a height of 12,000 feet, was the gallant deed for which Squadron Commander Gerald Harvey, of the R.N.A.S., has been awarded the Distinguished Service Order. Commander Harvey was born in Stratford, Ont., and took out his certificate in Toronto. Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Harvey, his parents, reside in California.

The Tragedy of the Sea

War Has Brought Greatest Tragedy of Maritime History

We have led the sea for a thousand years, but never as we are forced to lead it today. In the past the sea was a highway of commerce, a place of quiet solitude for tens of thousands of our fellow-countrymen, their graves unmarked except for the flowers of memory. Where is the romance of the sea which lured our fathers, as boys or young men, from the comfort and security of home? The great adventure has become the great tragedy of maritime history. Romance has been overlaid by realities of time and tragedy which are, happily, fresh in human experience. The naval blockade thought to light in the open an honorable foe, both sides using legitimate weapons of war, in accordance with the immortal exhortation: "Honor in word or deed, and take pride in striking fellow's blow." Humanity after action was Nelson's motto; humanity before, during and after action is the cry of the German-English war.

PAIN? NOT A BIT!

LIFT YOUR CORNS OR CALLUSES OFF

No humbug! Apply few drops then just lift them away with fingers.

This new drug is an ether compound discovered by a Canadian chemist. It is called freezine and is contained in tiny bottles at here shown at very little cost. Just ask for freezine. Apply a drop or two directly upon a tender corn or callus and instantly the soreness disappears. Shortly you will feel the corn or callus loose that you can lift at will with your fingers.

Not a twinge of pain, even the slightest smarting, when applying freezine or afterwards. This drug doesn't eat the corn or callus, but simply shrivels them so that they loosen and come right off. It is no humbug, it works like a charm.

For a free copy of our full and complete catalogue of every hard corn, soft corn or corn between the toes, as well as all other ailments of the feet, it never disappoints and never causes pain or inflammation. Freezine has no freezine, but from his whole body.

Canary Causes British Panic

It Is Shot Before Revealing Weeks of Mind Operations

How one little canary bird caused consternation among an entire division of British troops and had to be killed, is told by Dr. Robert Davis, recently arrived in the United States to lecture at the officers' training course at the University of the Armed Forces.

For more than a month on a fortress section of the line the British had been secretly mining the German trenches. Dr. Davis, "The work was almost complete. During the night of the 1st of canary birds, as usual, kept the excavations to warn the workers of the presence of fire damp, which is fatal to the birds. One little canary bird, however, escaped from its job, flew into the middle of No. 10's trench and alighting on a bush began to sing.

Consternation reigned in the British line. If the bird had been discovered by the Germans the work of weeks would go for nothing, as the enemy could easily interpret the meaning of its presence and attempt to combat the tapping operations. The infantry was immediately ordered to open fire on the canary to destroy it. But it seemed to hear a whistled line. Even the sharpshooters failed to bring it down as it hopped from twig to twig. Finally the artillery had to be called on. The French gun with a well-aimed shell struck the bird and the bush and the song into nothingness.

The Saskatchewan "Star" says: "There is a dispute between the C.P.R. and the contractors. What what the point of difference is, is not yet known, but there conversation of railway matters say that the company is demanding a share of the fare."

Rural Planning and Development

A New Report on Problems of Vital and Current Interest in Canada

The latest report of the commission of conservation deals with the important subject of the planning and development of rural districts and small towns in Canada. It has been prepared by Mr. Thomas Adams, town planning advisor of the commission, who has made a close study of the problems of rural development in this country during the past three years, following twenty-five years experience in farming, land surveying and town planning in other countries.

The report deals comprehensively with the social conditions and the prevailing systems of land settlement and development. It indicates the problems requiring solution in order to secure a proper economic and social use of the land for the purpose of efficiency, health and beauty.

The great injury which land development in Canada suffers, from speculation, neglect of public health and want of expert advice, is pointed out. The report is considered, incidentally, the best of the kind in Canada. It is a study of the problems of rural development, and shows the high cost of living in such areas.

Having regard to the need for more attention being given to the problem of rural development, the report is considered, incidentally, the best of the kind in Canada. It is a study of the problems of rural development, and shows the high cost of living in such areas.

There are five appendices by competent authorities, and the concluding chapter gives an outline of proposals and makes general recommendations to the public at large.

Hope for the Chronic

Leave of absence from a Scottish camp having been refused him, a lad of nineteen left his quarters in a sullen mood, but when the train was a mile from the station, where the prospective bride was waiting, the soldier was arrested as a deserter.

When his story was told to the now police constable Ballie Mitchell, reported that he could not perform the marriage, but he pointed out that, as both parties had expressed their desire for marriage, with the court as witnesses, the Scotch law was satisfied, and all that was required was the sheriff's permission to register.

The couple went to the county buildings, where the legal formalities of declaration was made, and later the bridegroom returned to the police station to await a writ.

Big Potato Yield

A farmer at Delton, Alberta, took from three-quarters of an acre 300 bushels of clean potatoes, three of which weighed more than seven and a half pounds. It was declared by experts that the yield was at least one hundred bushels of potatoes per acre.

Some of the potatoes were on vines at the time they were taken, and created much interest.

Many New Elevators

Capacity of Co-operative Elevators Is Increasing

During the recent past, the Saskatchewan grain elevator industry has erected thirty-one new elevators, and has still under construction six more, which will be completed in the near future.

The thirteen elevators which will be completed in the near future will involve an expenditure of $350,000 and will bring the number of elevators in the province to twenty-four.

In Alberta the United Grain Growers, formerly the Alberta Farmers' Co-operative Elevator Company, will have 14 elevators in operation in time to handle this year's crop. Last year the head of elevator capacity of grain through 103 elevators, which was the number then in operation, an increase of 14,000 bushels per elevator.

Western Cattle Receipts

In the nine months ending September 30, 13,546 more head of cattle passed through the Winnipeg yards, than for the same period in 1913. Of this number 14,000 head of stock cattle received at the Winnipeg yards, 23,267 went back to the Western farms to be finished, while the United States has received a much smaller percentage than in previous years.

People Who are Putting Profits Before Patriotism

The first-class and second-class mail that comes to my desk contains much complaint. And there is much ground for complaint.

Many of the people are putting profits before patriotism. Some leaders and followers of the nation are ready to fight out a little private war for their private gain, as though the nation were at peace. Some representatives of capital are unwilling to share a lot of their oil, heat, and electricity with the people.

Liberals Have Meeting.

We need today, he said, a union not only of the best military brains but we need men who understand and can grapple with the economic questions which are bound to come after the war.

Laurier, he said, will have such a Union government. But he did not say where it was coming from.

The present government he said has united neither government or people, for the sole reason that it is not democratic.

Sifton claims for a tribute to the sincerity of the Union Government that it has abolished the patronage list. This Mr. Gouge claimed was a confession of the despicable weakness of the Conservative government, that even in times of war patronage lists had to be maintained.

Then again he said, another claim of Sifton's was that he had regulated the price of flour. "Before regulation," the speaker said, "flour was selling at $5.50 now it is selling at $5.70."

There was a lot of talk about winning the war and backing up the boys at the front and many other statements of a like nature. There was no danger of the boys being deserted he said while he had the British Army and the Army of the United States behind us.

The only danger of desertion lies in the treatment of the returned soldiers and the dependents of the boys at the front. That was the danger of desertion said, and if Laurier was returned to power he said that danger too would be eliminated.

He characterized the franchise Act as the greatest act of repudiation which had ever been enacted, the statute books of any portion of the Empire.

He also referred to the Dominion Elections Act as an act which had disfranchised women as well as the alien voter.

Mr. Gouge concluded his address with an appeal to the Non-Partisan League to get into line with the old parties—remarking that life was not the time to pursue ideals but the moment for checking backs.

You are endangering the result to us he said for even if you were to be elected what could you do at Ottawa. You have no leader, no organization, and you would have to fall in line then.

This is no time to divide, he said, so get in line with the old party.

At the conclusion of Mr. Gouge's speech the chairman asked if anyone present wished to ask any questions.

B. O. Allen enquired if Mr. MacArthur had by any chance heard of the passing of the War Measures Act, which he said, gave the Governor-General authority to give his assent to any legislation which he was deemed of the Act he was speaking in ignorance and should not be permitted to make such statements in addressing an important audience. Mr. MacArthur in reply said, that he was not stating his own opinion of the Order-in-Council, but that of a speaker whose statement he had quoted.

When asked by his questioner to give the speaker's name either publicly to the audience or privately to the speaker, Mr. MacArthur said that he did not think it could. Upon being urged by several men in the audience to give the name the chairman asked the audience to rise and sing the National Anthem.

"INTOLERANCE"

Ever since D. N. O. film produced "The Birth of a Nation," students of the screen and movie fans alike have been wondering whether the master director could repeat, Mr. Griffith makes answer to the question by the presentation of "Intolerance," a photographic epic that for alone, beauty, special technique and skill in handling huge masses of humanity was never surpassed. Whether it is superior to "The Birth of a Nation" or merely its distant father, for the theme is so widely different. Yes, it must be conceded that "Intolerance" is superior to "The Birth of a Nation" for the director has advanced his art since he gave the world the photographic epic of the black race in America and there are a score of points in the new film in which the increased knowledge of the director may be seen.

"Intolerance" will be seen at the Glen on Thursday December 20th.

The theme of the twentieth century and realistically presents some striking phases of everyday life. Paralleled with it are three additional stories which trace back through earlier periods of the world's development.

The ancient periods show medieval France during the reign of Charles IX, when his mother Catherine de Medici, dominated his career; Jerusalem at the birth of the Christian era; and Babylon about 530 B.C. when Belshazzar's forces were overpowered by the Persian armies under Cyrus.

In building the walls of Babylon the allusions of the Holy Land and the picturesque atmosphere of old Paris, the production is of historic value. The costumes of each period are also reproduced with accuracy.

The spectacle is a combination of the poetic and dramatic designed to reveal that anyone can be the victim of the intolerant forces which led to the fall of Babylon, the midnight massacre of the innocent, France, and the dominant tragedy on Calvary.
